PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Special thanks to Ferris King for keeping the grounds so lovely. By the end of November, there wasn't a leaf to be found anywhere! Also thanks to Petey Whitten. Collecting our dues is a difficult job and she is doing it very well.

The Executive Board met January 10 and approved several interesting projects. The Book Committee is working on preparing our "This Is Haddonfield" for republication. We are hoping to have them available in June. The Evening Group of the Woman's Committee is planning a Tour of Haddonfield as part of the Philadelphia Opera House in May. The Morning Group of the Woman's Committee is working with several electricians in hopes of renovating our electrical system this Spring.

Congratulations to the Woman's Committee on another successful Christmas Craft Fair. Special thanks to Edith and Harry Atkinson for the lovely greens.

Looking forward to seeing all of you at the Tea, February 28 and the Dinner Meeting on March 20.

Deborah H. Moore
President

HAPPY BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Jesse G. Haydock, Sr.

Most of us refer to Edna Haydock as Haddonfield's First Lady - a well earned title since this is her eightieth year as a resident of Haddonfield.

On her 100th birthday, February 7, 1982 Governor Thomas H. Kean in a congratulatory letter stated, "Your long career of community service, your leadership in so many important civic efforts, have resulted in immense contributions to Haddonfield, and, indeed, the State of New Jersey."

Walk down memory lane and see her, as an active P.T.A. member, lead a committee to persuade the School Board to provide a lunch room in the basement of the Brown School Building for students, formerly "brown baggers"; solicit funds for a swimming pool at Mountwell, a project of The Haddon Fortnightly; as chairman of the committee to purchase the former Methodist Church as a future home for The Haddon Fortnightly, inducing husbands to buy bonds to aid in the financing; in a mother role tying a rope around the waist of embarrassed seven year old Jesse, as a safety measure, when she took him to swim in Mountwell Pool; as Superintendent of the Baptist Junior Department Sunday School, promoting Bible education; and as the first woman member of the Civic Association.

Longfellow said it best: "For age is opportunity no less..." Edna Haydock had never driven an automobile until after her husband died in 1953. At age 70 she learned to drive. Many of us with "heart in mouth" watched her back out of her driveway into Kings Highway.

A devoted member, particularly of the Book Committee, of the Historical Society, she chaired the committee which published in 1963 the history of the Borough entitled "This is Haddonfield." An avid researcher herself, Edna directed members to research specific areas of town to be included in the reprinting of "This is Haddonfield."

In her leadership positions of president, chairman and other offices, she always encouraged others to participate and gain in knowledge and experience. One of her admonitions: "When asked to take an office or be in charge of a project don't say no, I don't know how, say yes and learn how."

These are pleasant and outstanding memories as all of us with love and affection say Happy 102nd Birthday, and remember a quote from Walt Whitman.

"Will you seek afar off? You surely come back at last,
In things best known to you finding the best, or as good as the best,
In folks nearest to you finding the sweetest
strongest lovingest . . . "
